WORKING TOWARD FUSION

NATIVES ARE ENGINEERING A COUP.

Rather Interesting Story From Hawaii—An Sides of Two Parties—Wise a Candidate for Congress.

Robert Wilcox gave a luau Saturday evening in honor of John Wise, one of the Democratic delegates to Kansas City. Present were James K. Kaula, D. Kalaupokalani and a few others of the Independent leaders. During the luau politics were not referred to by anyone present.

Since his return Mr. Wise has done some hard work for the Democratic party, and claims to have met with great success among his native friends. He has told them a great deal about 16 to 1, the plank which he saved for his party.

It is understood that Mr. Wise will be a candidate for nomination of the Democrats for Congress. Some of the leaders at Kansas City told him they would like to meet him at the national capitol.

Below and beyond this, too, it is learned that there is a well developed movement now on for a coalition or fusion between the Democrats and Independents. Thus far the movement seems to be confined to the natives, as the Democratic central committee seems to know nothing of it. Kaula has stated openly that there would be fusion, and Mr. Wise says that there will be an understanding between the parties very shortly.

On Saturday a number of young natives were working on the Wise candidacy for Congress. They were largely graduates of the Kamehameha School. It is understood that they plan to ask Wilcox to withdraw in favor of Wise, and then to ask Democrats and Independents to nominate the latter.

Kaula, Kalaupokalani and Wilcox will not go to Hawaii until next week. They will attend the Democratic ratification luau, which is scheduled for 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Republican rally will take place Friday evening. It will be on precisely the lines originally mapped out.

GERMAN MILITARY SYSTEM.

Subjects Liable to be Called Home Any Moment.

A number of German subjects residing here were examined by the surgeon of the cruiser Geier to determine whether they were physically liable to military duty to the Fatherland. Under the military system of the German Empire all men are subject to military service as soon as they are seventeen years of age. In the infantry they are required to serve two years and in the cavalry and artillery three years while in the navy the service is as high as four years.

Leave of absence is granted in most cases when desired and is never longer than one year except between the years of seventeen and twenty, when it is three years. By securing this leave of absence the holder can go to any part of the world but he must be in communication with the German consul at his place of residence in order to have his leave extended at the expiration of the year. It is not necessary however to pass the government examination before one is granted the leave of absence.

Holders of this leave are subject to summons from the government at any time when their services are deemed necessary. They are required to report immediately home and at their own expense the government taking the position that if they had enough money with which to leave the Germany they should have enough with which to return. In case of failure to respond to the summons he is posted as a deserter on the army lists and he forfeits his citizenship as a German. The people now being examined have not been called home but are merely taking this opportunity of ascertaining their physical capacity for service for should they be found physically deficient they are of course excused.

NEW CITIZENS CAN VOTE

BUT CANNOT HOLD OFFICE YET AWHILE.

Important Conclusion of the Executive Reached This Morning—All Sorts of Routine Matters.

At the meeting this morning the Executive thrashed out the subject of whether or not aliens recently naturalized could vote and hold office. The matter was brought up by Attorney General Dole. It was the opinion that such persons could vote, but could not hold office until after they had lived here twelve months as American citizens. If this opinion is adhered to it will dispose of the contention in regard to several office holders.

Treasurer Lansing called attention to the fact that the oil warehouses at Honolulu and Hilo were being used for the storing of goods other than oil, which was not the intention of the Government.

Mr. Lansing reported the application of L. Turner & Co. of Hilo, for articles of incorporation to be in good form. The papers in this matter had been returned to the parties for correction.

The application of the Hawaiian Electric Company for permission to lay a pipe line under Alakea street from the Sailors' Home to its works, was referred to Superintendent McCandless with power to act.

The matter of Leslie's application for a patent to quiet title to a piece of land was taken up. It was the opinion that it belonged to the legislature.

Attorney General Dole reported a list of persons on the Island of Hawaii whose civil rights should be restored to them. The list was supplied by Sheriff Andrews.

Mr. McCandless presented a map showing the proposed widening of Queen street. He stated that deals had been consummated with Mr. Magoon and other property holders for the land required for the improvement.

SKIPPED TO THE COAST

SOUZA FORFEITS FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS BAIL.

Leaves for the Coast on a Sailing Vessel as Soon as He Gets Out of Prison—Father Loses Money

H. R. Souza, who was arrested last week for forgery, forfeited $500 bail this morning, and is believed to have gone away on a sailing vessel. The amount of money he sought to obtain by the alleged forgery was only $40. Souza was arrested in prison all week until Saturday, when his father arrived from Hilo on the Kinai and put up $500 cash bail. A few hours later the young man was on a sailing vessel bound for the Coast, according to all accounts. He is thought to have taken the W. H. Dole of the Government.

Souza's alleged crime was the forging of the name of Dr. Alvarez for an endorsement of a check for $40, which he asked P. H. Burnett to cash on Sunday, July 22. Burnett did not want to pay the money without an endorsement, and Souza left, returning again with the name of Dr. Alvarez on the back of the check. Burnett became suspicious and drove up to Dr. Alvarez, and the latter stated that he had not made any endorsement of a check for Souza. A warrant was sworn to, and Souza was arrested a week ago Sunday.

The young man will probably not be brought back unless the complaining witnesses are anxious to have him punished. No warrant has yet been issued, and the matter will probably be allowed to drop with the forfeiting of $500 bail. Forgery is punishable by imprisonment at hard labor for ten years.

DEMOCRATS WILL RATHER

WANT DRILL SHED WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Delegates Will be Escorted From the Australia and the Speaking Will be Held in the Evening.

Democrats are preparing to hold a ratification of the nomination of Bryan and Stevenson on Wednesday night at the Drill Shed, if that place of meeting can be secured. According to the arrangements a committee of Democrats will meet Princes David and W. H. Cornwell and the remaining delegates, when they arrive on the steamer Australia, Wednesday morning from San Francisco. The party will be escorted in carriages to the Hawaiian Hotel, where a short reception will be held.

At 7:30 o'clock in the evening there will be a public meeting at the Drill Shed, when the returning delegates and Delegate John H. Wise will speak. C. J. McCarthy will preside. Refreshments will be served.

The original intention of the party was to hold a select luau, but for some reason the exclusive style of ratification was abandoned, and the more democratic style of mass meeting adopted, to the evident satisfaction of the rank and file, who do not relish the idea of being denied seats at the festive board of party patriotism. A luau is announced for some future date, however. The coming celebration will occur only two nights before a similar meeting of the Republicans, but unlike the grand old party managers, the disciples of 16 to 1 will not have a street parade.

All of the necessary arrangements have not yet been completed by the Democratic special committee, but as there seems nothing likely to interfere with their securing the Drill Shed, the ratification will no doubt take place.

HE SMASHED A SAILOR

CHARGE AGAINST SHIPPING MASTER TURK.

Arrested Without Lewis This Time for Assault and Battery—Shipping Business Still Lively.

Frank J. Turk, the shipping master, who was arrested this afternoon, was arrested by Police Captain Flint, on a warrant for assault and battery, sworn to by a sailor named Charles Engman. Lewis wasn't in it this time, so the two inseparables were separated for once. Engman alleges that Turk struck him on Saturday and he has a swollen black eye to show the judge in proof of his charge.

Engman's objection to shipping on the Star of Italy is said to have been the cause of the trouble. It is alleged that Turk had a berth he wanted to put the sailor in and that Engman wouldn't sign at the wages offered, wherefore Turk is alleged to have "smashed" the sailor. The latter beat a hasty retreat and day why he didn't do some fighting back, as sailors are supposed to. "I'd rather get a warrant and see the bloke in jail," he replied.

Evangelist McComb is getting into some hot water now, as a result of his energetic campaign of talk against the shipping masters. Turk & Lewis declare that McComb is after cheap notoriety, and they are spreading about the water front various stories intended to show that the Joyful News Mission man is not a trusted pilot. McComb is said to be "boosting wages" so that men will not ship. Sailors are asking $40 a month now and the market has an upward tendency.

Last night McComb spent some more of his eloquence on Lewis & Turk. His meetings are beginning to be interesting to sailors, saving souls as McComb is supposed to. It is said that one or two local merchants have sent fair-sized purses to the Joyful News man, and he is said to be winking the other eye.

In the meantime the captains in port are getting men as best they can. The combination against Lewis and Turk, which so completely broke up their business for a time, is no longer in full effect, for they have to hustle for business. Captain Bray of the Sailors' Home is doing a lot of shipping business. Lewis & Turk, however, are also placing crews, and but for the frequency of their police court experiences they claim to be getting along very well. Turk put up $25 bail this afternoon, and will appear before Judge Wilcox tomorrow morning, for the third time in his brief Honolulu career.

Prof. Koehle, who returned yesterday from Kauai, reports that both the blight and cane borer were disappearing from that island. At Lihue a steady war is maintained against the latter. That plantation last year spent $5,000 in the effort to exterminate the pest. The professor took up a lot of lady birds which were turned loose to prey upon the blight.

THE BOW WONG PROGRAM

REFORMER KANG YU WEI FOR EMPEROR.

Would Make Alliance With the Powers —C. J. Hutchins Proposes General Chaffee for Second "Chinese" Gordon.

The Bow Wong program in China, involving a vast civil war in which the reform party of the southern provinces will strive to overthrow the Boxer party of the north, and bring the Manchu dynasty to an end, has been submitted to the powers of the world, according to the local leaders of the Chinese reform society. The program includes an offer of alliance, one of the conditions of which is that there must be no attempt to divide up the Chinese empire. The Bow Wong society has been doing most energetic work all over the world, and it is now said to be in condition to provide any amount of money for the war that must be fought out. A very large part of this work was done by Leung Chi-tso while in Honolulu. Leung made a headquarters here that did work which, the Chinese say, will one day be felt all over the world. The governments at Washington, London, St. Petersburg and other capitals have been approached by men whom the Bow Wongs sent from China, and asked to ally themselves with the reform party. What answers were given is not known, but the trend of events is undoubtedly towards co-operation of the powers, in the terrible conflict that seems inevitable. So at least the reformers here think.

The way to settle with China is to form an alliance with the reform party, and let this element of the population of China fight for the overthrow of the Boxer party. There is no need for the powers to undertake the impossible task of fighting all China, and partition of the empire is something that cannot be accomplished. But with the aid of the Powers the reform party can restore the emperor, or in the event of his death, place Kang Yu Wei at the head and establish a government that will be all that can be asked for. This is the Bow Wong program, and it is believed to be far nearer to accomplishment than the general world is aware of. The reformers can raise $25,000,000 or more, if needed, at a moment's notice, say the Bow Wongs.

The southern provinces of China, which the Bow Wongs claim as supporters of the reform party, have three-fourths of the country's entire population.

They are declared to be capable of marching to Peking and overturning the present government. If on reaching Peking they found the unfortunate Kang Han dead, Kang Yu Wei, the great reform leader, would be their choice, it is said, for head of the government. Kang is spoken of as the greatest Chinese leader that has arisen since Confucius, and the vast reform movement he and his associates have set in motion bears out the statement that he is a man of great ability and power as a leader. "With this man on the throne," said one of the Honolulu members of his party, "and a board of liberal advisers around him, China would have a government that would put her on a civilized country. It would be as it began to be when the Emperor, under advice of the now exiled reformers, made the edicts opening the country, on account of which he was practically deposed by the non-liberal party of the Chinese dowager."

Among white men who have been to China and studied the crisis which has now started all the world, there are few who have had better opportunities for observation than Clinton J. Hutchins, long manager of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company. Mr. Hutchins spent two years in China where he made the acquaintance of Li Hung Chang, Kang Yu Wei, Leung Chi-tso and other leaders. When asked the Bow Wong program, he briefly outlined in Saturday's Star, Mr. Hutchins expressed the opinion that it was the only possible way to deal with the crisis, and he emphatically upheld the claim of the Bow Wongs that if the powers ally themselves with the reform party Li Hung Chang will be one of their strongest supporters.

"When I met Li Hung Chang a few years ago," said Mr. Hutchins, "the reform party, then being organized, was out of our thought of conversation. This was just at the time when the reformers were exiled and their comrades beheaded. I asked Li what he thought of the reform movement and he said it was what he had been working for all alone for thirty years. He was in the Powers can divide China is utterly absurd. The Chinese have patriotism and love of country as strong as any people in the world. Do not the actions of the members of the reform party in sacrificing their lives, their lives and the lives of their relations show this? I remember the case of one of Kang Yu Wei's associates who was beheaded in Peking. He was offered protection by an American Mission. The night before his capture he was warned in the mission, where he was visiting and told that he had better remain. He was given offers of help in getting away and protection in the legation. Nothing more nobly patriotic than his answer can be found in history. 'They must be beheaded,' he said, 'before any great reform can be brought about. For every man who is killed for the cause 10,000,000 new reformers will rise. I am willing to lose my life if necessary.' He left the mission, and that very night he was captured. The next morning he was beheaded, and his last words were a defiance—he repeated at the last his splendid threat, that millions of new reformers would be converted by every execution. Kang Yu Wei, Leung Chi-tso and other reformers are ready to die in the same way if necessary. The Chinese love of country is stronger, if anything, than that of any other people in the world. Leung Chi-tso's warning given in Honolulu, that attempts to partition China would make Boxers out of nine-tenths of the country's vast population, is not stretching the truth. If the Powers try to divide the country they will simply have to fight the whole population, which they cannot do. On the other hand, by going in with the reformers the powers may establish a new Chinese government in short and need not fight the whole country."

"This is really the only feasible plan there is. Chinese must be fought with Chinese."

WAIPO DEAD MAN'S ROAD

THREE KILLED IN CONSTRUCTION ALREADY.

Takes the Middle of a Perpendicular Cliff and is Narrow and Unprotected —Cost and Contract.

KUKUIHAELE, July 25.—If you go to Jones' store and ask "Where is Waipio?" they will point to the west. If you ask "Where is the new Waipio road?" they will point to the northeast. You will hear something. The new Waipio road begins at the sugar mill, a half mile from the main road in a straight line, and nearly a mile by the road. Just why it begins so far away, nobody now seems to know. It is supposed there was a time when somebody knew, but now he has forgotten. This road was to be finished last March, and not one quarter is blocked out. None of it is finished if you except about 500 feet near the mill.

Commencing at the mill the road leads directly west. At the mill is good ground and this part of the road one may say it is fairly good till you come to the ditch that takes the waste flume water; after that all is chaos. The cliff is 1200 or 1500 feet high and the road takes the middle of it. The cliff is almost perpendicular, and in some places it is more so. If you look up you fear the rocks will fall down on you; if you look down you fear you will fall down on the rocks.

The road is supposed to be 12 feet wide, but none is more than 10 feet and that down to 4 feet. In places the road hangs on the face of the cliff, and a stone dropped from the hand will almost reach the beach without striking anything. There are no walls on the outside, and everything seems as dangerous as possible. Three men have been killed in the construction of the road, so far. They were Japanese, and they either fell over the cliff or stones rolled on them from above.

The road is to be built for the rice fields, but the main road is to be a mule laden with two bags of rice up that road will be a very brave man or a fool. Just now work is suspended, the appropriation is out. And though it is contract work, it is supposed nothing will be done till more money is coming. The contractor is a Portuguese named Massalina, but he only represents. The contract is for $5,000, and it will cost $15,000 before it is done.

STILL LIVING IN PALOLO VALLEY.

The recent large number of sudden deaths in Palolo Valley have had no effect in causing the balance of the residents to desert that protuberant place. As a matter of fact, the relatives of the unfortunate dead have merely moved to different places in the valley, and have not deserted the section at all. The other natives, Chinese and Japanese residents still live there, and there has been no evidence of any heira to escape the alleged work of the kahuna.

The dew point is very high. This in addition to the high temperature, what makes it so oppressive. Prof. Lyons reports that the average temperature for the 24 hours ending at 9 o'clock yesterday evening was the highest on record. This average was 80.5 degrees.

WANTS THEM NON-PARTISAN.

New Idea for the Appointment of Local Officers.

A very sensible and timely suggestion has been made by Mr. George Hama, one of the Territorial Republican committeemen to the effect that in the appointment of our local officers, such as registration and election officers, road boards, land commissioners, superintendent of water works and other purely local offices, politics be laid entirely to one side, and non-partisan, democrats, independents and non-partisans all meet and discuss proposed appointments solely with the view of securing the best men available for the different offices, without any reference to their political affiliations. Doubtless, such action would govern the authorities in making their appointments, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Hama's suggestion will be carried out.—Maui News.

OFFERS A FULL COMPANY

KLEMMER'S APPLICATION FOR CHINA SERVICE.

Forwarded by Peking to Secretary of War—Endorsed by Governor Dole—Could Raise 1,000 Men.

Capt. Henry Klemme forwarded by the City of Peking letters and documents in regard to the military company he has formed here for service in China. He offers 100 men and officers, or 100 men in all. Accompanying the application is a letter from Governor Dole, endorsing Captain Klemme and the project. Officers of the National Guard also submitted an endorsement of the project and the promoter.

"I have had more applications than I knew what to do with," stated Captain Klemme this morning. "This has enabled me to pick my men, and if we are accepted the China contingent will be first class material. Many of the best shots and best drilled men in the regiment have enlisted in the company. Judging from my own experience in the past few days, I believe a thousand men could easily be enlisted in Honolulu for service in China provided war is declared."

It now seems probable that the only organized forces accepted for service from Hawaii will be offered to the United States. An authority on the subject states that Germany will not under any circumstances accept an organized contingent from a foreign country, although individuals will be accepted for enlistment in different regiments. Though Germany and the United States are allies in the war, there is no disposition on the part of the powers to depart from the old rule in regard to troops from countries outside of their respective borders.

Several native members of Company G wish to enlist for China. A large number of Hawaiians would volunteer were it not for the difficulty of obtaining their accustomed food. For does not grow on trees in China, and thus not packed by Armour & Co. in little tins.
